

David Blake, Co-editor, Bioshares

David Blake is Co-editor of Bioshares, an independent biotech, healthcare and pharmaceutical stock report. Prior to launching a career as a company and industry analyst, David was employed as a housing market analyst with the State Government of Victoria. David was educated at the University of Queensland, from where he received a B.A, majoring in politics and economics and the University of Melbourne, where he completed a Post Graduate Diploma in Economics. He is also a recipient of a Graduate Diploma in Applied Finance and Investment from the Securities Institute of Australia. He is Fellow of the Financial Services Institute of Australia.

David is interested in the following: thinking about risk before reward; why companies fail; and the connection between leadership and corporate success. He is interested in reading as widely as possible, and putting a lot of what Jim Collins calls 'white space' in his diary.
