Dr Jenny Harry
CEO & Managing Director
Tyrian Diagnostics Limited

Dr Harry is the CEO & Managing Director of Tyrian Diagnostics Limited, a Sydney-based company that develops innovative diagnostic products.

Jenny became an executive member of the Board and was appointed Chief Executive Officer in June 2007.

In 2006 she completed the General Manager Program at Harvard Business School.

Under Jenny's leadership the company has partnered with BD, USA for the development and commercialization of point-of-care TB diagnostics, and has commercialized its first diagnostic product for global distribution with Bayer CropScience AG.

The company's current objective is to generate recurring revenues from a portfolio of diagnostic products on its patented DiagnostIQ platform, with a core focus on respiratory infectious disease.
