Dr Mervyn Thomas Managing Director Emphron Informatics

Mervyn Thomas has a D.Phil from the University of York,

Mervyn held senior biostatistics roles with ICI (now Astra Zeneca) and Shell Research (as biostatistics manager for Shell's Sittingbourne Research Centre).

He managed the Biostatistics Research Programme of CSIRO's Mathematical and Information Sciences Division, where he led a team of 50 statisticians: most qualified to PhD level.

He left CSIRO to found Emphron Informatics: Australia's leading consultancy in Bioinformatics and advanced biostatistics.

Emphron's clients have included many US companies, and many of Australia's leading biotechs. Mervyn is also one of the founders of DevDx Clinical: a specialist CRO focussing on device and diagnostic clinical research.
